MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION & ANALYSIS REPORT

1. OVERVIEW

The objective of this report is to convey the Management's perspective on the external environment and steel industry, as well as strategy, operating and financial performance, material developments in human resources and industrial relations, risks and opportunities and internal control systems and their adequacy in the Company during FY 2023-24. This should be read in conjunction with the Company's financial statements, the schedules and notes thereto and other information included elsewhere in this Report and Annual Accounts 2023-24. The Company's financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards ('Ind AS') complying with the requirements of the Companies Act, 2013, as amended and regulations issued by the Securities and Exchange Board of India ('SEBI') from time to time.

2. GLOBAL ECONOMY

The global economy for the fiscal year (FY) 2023-2024 has been characterized by a mix of recovery, adaptation, and ongoing challenges. As nations continue to navigate the aftermath of the COVID-19 pandemic and respond to new economic and geopolitical developments, various factors have influenced economic performance across the globe.

i. Economic Growth

a. Global Growth Trends: The global economy experienced a moderate recovery trajectory in FY 2023-2024. According to the International Monetary Fund (IMF) and other financial institutions, global GDP growth is estimated to be around 3.0% to 3.5%, a deceleration from the sharp rebound seen in the previous year but still indicative of ongoing recovery. This growth is driven by the continued normalization of economic activities, particularly in emerging markets and developing economies (EMDEs).

b. Regional Performance:

- United States: The U.S. economy has shown resilience, with growth rates around 2.5% to 3.0%. Consumer spending and a strong labor market have supported this growth, despite persistent inflationary pressures and monetary tightening by the Federal Reserve.
- Eurozone: Growth in the Eurozone has been modest, with projections around 1.5% to 2.0%. Economic activity is recovering unevenly across member states, influenced by varying degrees of energy dependence and fiscal policies.
- China: China's economy has rebounded with growth rates of approximately 4.0% to 5.0%. This recovery has been driven by increased domestic consumption, infrastructure investment, and a gradual easing of COVID-19-related restrictions. However, challenges such as an aging population and real estate sector issues continue to pose risks.
- Emerging Markets: Emerging markets have shown robust growth, averaging around 4.5% to 5.0%. These economies benefit from rising commodity prices and improved trade conditions, though they face vulnerabilities related to global interest rate hikes and geopolitical tensions.

ii. Inflation and Monetary Policy

Inflation remains a key concern globally. In advanced economies, inflation rates have moderated from their peak levels but remain above historical averages. Central banks, particularly in the U.S. and Eurozone, have continued to implement tight monetary policies to curb inflation, leading to higher interest rates and tighter financial conditions.

Emerging markets have also grappled with inflationary pressures, though to varying degrees. Countries with high commodity export dependence have experienced somewhat better inflation management compared to those reliant on imports.

iii. Supply Chain and Trade Dynamics

Supply chain disruptions, while less severe than during the pandemic's peak, continue to affect global trade and production. Logistics issues and geopolitical tensions have led to persistent supply bottlenecks, particularly in technology and energy sectors. Efforts to diversify supply chains and build resilience have been underway, with varying degrees of success across industries and regions.

Trade dynamics have been influenced by ongoing geopolitical tensions, particularly between major economies such as the U.S. and China. Trade policies and tariffs have fluctuated, impacting global trade flows and economic stability.

iv. Geopolitical and Environmental Factors

Geopolitical uncertainties, including conflicts and regional tensions, have impacted economic stability and investor confidence. The ongoing conflict in Ukraine, for instance, has had significant ramifications for energy markets and European economies.

Environmental factors, particularly climate change, have also increasingly influenced economic policies. Governments and businesses are investing in green technologies and sustainable practices, driven by both regulatory frameworks and shifting consumer preferences.

v. Investment and Innovation

Investment in technology and innovation has continued to be a major driver of economic growth. Sectors such as artificial intelligence, renewable energy, and digital infrastructure are seeing significant capital inflows. These investments are expected to play a crucial role in shaping future economic trends and competitiveness.

The global economy for FY 2023-2024 presents a landscape of cautious optimism amid persistent challenges. While growth prospects remain positive, the economy faces ongoing inflationary pressures, geopolitical uncertainties, and environmental considerations. Adaptation and resilience will be key for economies as they navigate this complex and evolving environment.

3. OVERVIEW OF THE INDIAN ECONOMY

The Indian economy for the fiscal year (FY) 2023-2024 has demonstrated notable resilience and growth, driven by strong domestic demand, government initiatives, and structural reforms. Despite global economic uncertainties and domestic challenges, India remains one of the fastest-growing major economies in the world.

i. Economic Growth

India's economy has been projected to grow at a robust rate of approximately 6.0% to 6.5% for FY 2023-2024. This growth trajectory reflects the continued recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic and the impact of various policy measures aimed at sustaining economic momentum.

ii. Inflation and Monetary Policy

a. Inflation Trends:

Inflation has remained a significant concern, driven by rising food and energy prices. The Consumer Price Index (CPI) inflation rate has been hovering around 5.0% to 6.0%. The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has been actively managing inflation through monetary policy adjustments.

b. Monetary Policy:

The RBI has adopted a cautious approach to monetary policy, implementing interest rate hikes to control inflation while balancing the need to support economic growth. The central bank's stance has been influenced by both domestic inflationary pressures and global financial conditions.

iii. Fiscal Policy and Government Initiatives

The Indian government has maintained a focus on fiscal consolidation while continuing to invest in growth-enhancing sectors. The budget for FY 2023-2024 emphasizes infrastructure development, social welfare programs, and economic reforms.

- Infrastructure Development: The government has allocated significant funds to improve infrastructure, including roads, railways, and urban development projects.
- PLI Schemes: The Production-Linked Incentive schemes aim to boost manufacturing and attract foreign direct investment (FDI) by offering incentives to companies that increase production and create jobs.
- Digital Economy: Efforts to enhance digital infrastructure and promote digital payments have continued, supporting financial inclusion and modernizing various sectors of the economy.

iv. Trade and External Sector

a. Trade Balance:

India's trade balance has been influenced by fluctuating global commodity prices and trade policies. While exports have grown, imports have also increased, leading to trade deficits. Efforts to boost export competitiveness and diversify trade partners are ongoing.

b. Foreign Exchange Reserves:

India's foreign exchange reserves have remained healthy, providing a buffer against external shocks and supporting the stability of the Indian Rupee.

v. Geopolitical and Environmental Factors

a. Geopolitical Tensions:

Geopolitical developments, including regional tensions and global trade dynamics, have impacted India's external economic environment. The government has navigated these challenges by diversifying trade relationships and strengthening regional partnerships.

b. Environmental Concerns:

Climate change and environmental sustainability are increasingly important issues. India has committed to ambitious targets under international climate agreements and is investing in renewable energy sources and sustainable practices.

4. INDIAN IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY OVERVIEW (FY 2023-2024)

In FY 2023-2024, India solidified its position as the world's second-largest steel producer, with an estimated production of around 125 million metric tons (MMT). The industry benefited from strong domestic demand, driven by infrastructure projects like the National Infrastructure Pipeline (NIP) and the expansion of the automotive sector. This growth was supported by government initiatives such as the Production Linked Incentive (PLI) scheme, which encouraged capacity expansion and technological upgrades.

India's steel consumption also saw a rise, fuelled by urbanization, industrialization, and the push for infrastructure development, including roads, railways, and housing. The country's steel demand is expected to grow by approximately 7-8%, aligning with the government's vision to achieve 300 MMT of steel production capacity by 2030.

Despite the growth, the industry faced challenges, including high input costs, particularly for coking coal, of which India is heavily import-dependent. Environmental concerns also prompted Indian steelmakers to explore green steel production methods, with several companies announcing investments in decarbonization technologies. The focus on sustainability and reducing carbon emissions is expected to shape the future trajectory of India's steel industry.

Government Initiatives

In FY 2023-2024, the Government of India implemented several initiatives to strengthen the iron and steel sector, aiming to enhance production capacity, promote sustainability, and support domestic demand. Key initiatives include:

- Production Linked Incentive (PLI) Scheme:

The government expanded the PLI scheme to include the specialty steel sector, with an allocation of ₹6,322 crores (~$850 million). The scheme incentivizes the production of high-value steel products like coated steel, high-strength steel, and alloy steel, promoting the modernization of steel manufacturing and reducing reliance on imports.

- National Steel Policy 2017 – Continued Emphasis:

The government reaffirmed its commitment to the National Steel Policy (NSP) 2017, which aims to achieve 300 million metric tons (MMT) of steel production capacity by 2030. FY 2023-2024 saw continued investments in expanding domestic steel capacity, aligning with this long-term vision.

- Development of Steel Clusters:

To support small and medium enterprises (SMEs) in the steel sector, the government focused on developing steel clusters. These clusters provide shared infrastructure, such as common facilities for testing and processing, to boost efficiency and competitiveness among SMEs.

- Focus on Decarbonization:

The Indian government encouraged the adoption of green steel production methods, supporting research and development in hydrogen-based steelmaking and other low-carbon technologies. Public sector enterprises like Steel Authority of India Limited (SAIL) and private companies were urged to invest in cleaner technologies, aligning with global efforts to reduce carbon emissions.

Infrastructure Push:

The government's infrastructure development plans, including the National Infrastructure Pipeline (NIP) and the PM Gati Shakti initiative, have directly boosted demand for steel. These projects emphasize the use of domestically produced steel in road construction, railways, ports, and urban development, ensuring a stable demand for the industry.

- Steel Scrap Recycling Policy:

To promote the use of recycled steel and reduce dependency on imported raw materials, the government continued to push the Steel Scrap Recycling Policy. This policy encourages the establishment of steel scrap centers and the adoption of efficient recycling practices, contributing to a circular economy.

- Tariff and Trade Measures:

The government implemented various tariff measures to protect the domestic steel industry from cheap imports, particularly from countries like China and South Korea. Anti-dumping duties and safeguard measures were enforced to ensure a level playing field for domestic producers.

These initiatives reflect the Indian government's comprehensive approach to bolstering the iron and steel sector, ensuring that it remains competitive, sustainable, and aligned with the country's broader economic goal

5. OUTLOOK

Looking ahead, the Indian economy is expected to continue its growth trajectory, supported by strong domestic demand, strategic investments, and ongoing reforms. However, challenges such as inflation, global economic uncertainties, and environmental issues will require vigilant policy management and adaptive strategies.

For FY 2023-2024, the Indian economy presents a picture of robust growth amidst a complex global and domestic landscape. With a focus on infrastructure, investment, and economic reforms, India is well-positioned to sustain its growth momentum while addressing key challenges and leveraging emerging opportunities.

6. OPPORTUNITIES& THREATS

➤ OPPORTUNITIES

- Infrastructure Development and Urbanization:

The global push towards infrastructure development, especially in emerging economies, is expected to drive demand for iron and steel products. Government initiatives in countries like India, China, and those in Southeast Asia to build smart cities, improve transportation networks, and develop urban infrastructure will likely boost finished steel consumption.

The ongoing construction boom in residential, commercial, and industrial sectors offers significant opportunities for the iron and steel industry.

- Green Steel Production:

The shift towards sustainable and green steel production methods presents an opportunity for companies that can adapt quickly. Innovations like hydrogen-based steelmaking and carbon capture technologies are gaining traction, supported by government incentives and rising consumer demand for environmentally friendly products.

Companies investing in green technologies can gain a competitive edge as global standards and regulations become stricter.

- Technological Advancements:

The adoption of Industry 4.0 technologies, such as automation, AI, and IT, can enhance operational efficiency, reduce costs, and improve product quality. Smart manufacturing and predictive maintenance can lead to better resource utilization and lower production costs.

Advanced materials and alloy development can open new markets and applications for steel products.

- Growing Demand from Automotive Sector:

The automotive industry's shift towards electric vehicles (EVs) and lighter, stronger materials is driving demand for advanced high-strength steels (AHSS). This trend is expected to create new opportunities for steel producers who can supply the necessary materials.

The growing global demand for EVs is expected to bolster steel demand for manufacturing battery packs, body frames, and other components.

- Government Policies and Trade Agreements:

Favourable government policies, including subsidies for domestic production and protective tariffs against imports, can provide a boost to local iron and steel manufacturers.

Bilateral and multilateral trade agreements can open new markets and reduce export barriers for steel producers.

➤ THREATS

• Raw Material Price Volatility:

The iron and steel industry is highly sensitive to fluctuations in the prices of raw materials, such as iron ore, coking coal, and scrap metal. Any significant increase in these prices can erode profit margins, especially for producers who rely heavily on imported raw materials.

Supply chain disruptions, driven by geopolitical tensions or natural disasters, could exacerbate these challenges.

• Environmental Regulations:

The tightening of environmental regulations worldwide poses a significant threat to traditional steelmaking processes, which are carbon-intensive. Compliance with stricter emission norms can increase production costs and require significant capital investments in cleaner technologies.

Failure to adapt to these regulations could result in penalties, loss of market share, and reputational damage.

• Global Economic Uncertainty:

Economic slowdowns in key markets, such as Europe and China, could dampen demand for steel products. Additionally, global inflationary pressures and rising interest rates could reduce investment in infrastructure and construction, key drivers of steel demand.

Uncertainty around trade policies, especially in major economies like the U.S. and China, could lead to disruptions in the global steel trade, impacting export-oriented producers.

• Overcapacity and Competition:

Overcapacity remains a persistent issue in the global steel industry, leading to intense price competition. Producers in countries like China continue to operate at high levels, contributing to global supply gluts and downward pressure on prices.

The emergence of low-cost producers in developing countries could further increase competition, making it challenging for established players to maintain market share.

• Technological Disruptions:

The rise of alternative materials, such as aluminium and composites, particularly in the automotive and aerospace industries, poses a threat to steel demand. These materials are often lighter and more corrosion-resistant, making them attractive substitutes for steel in certain applications.

Failure to keep pace with technological advancements in steelmaking and material science could lead to obsolescence and loss of competitive advantage.

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the IND AS financial statement as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these IND AS financial statement.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the IND AS financial statement, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Companies Act, 2013, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the IND AS financial statement or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the IND AS financial statement, including the disclosures, and whether the IND AS financial statement represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the IND AS financial statement of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

“Annexure B” to the Independent Auditor’s Report of even date on the Financial Statements of M/s AANCHAL ISPAT LIMITED

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 (“the Act”)

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of AANCHAL ISPAT LIMITED (“the Company”) as of March 31, 2024 in conjunction with our audit of the Ind AS financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management’s Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company’s management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India”. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company’s policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors’ Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the “Guidance Note”) and the Standards on Auditing, issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both applicable to an audit of Internal Financial Controls and, both issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor’s judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company’s internal financial controls system over financial reporting except note given in Audit Report in opinion paragraph for Sundry debtors and advance.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Basis for Opinion

According to information and explanation given to us and based on our audit, the following weakness have been identified in the effectiveness of the Company's internal financial controls over financing reporting as at March 31, 2024:

- a) Refer to Note 5 and 9 of the financial statements, in respect of long outstanding overdue trade receivables and advance, whereby evidences of control over monitoring / assessing recoverability of such over dues, including assessment of provision for doubtful trade receivables and advances were not operation effectively. This could potentially result in the company not recognizing a provision for doubtful / old overdue trade receivables.
- b) The Company's internal controls over updating the customers/ vendors master data with present addresses were not operating effectively in past but now it will be updated as and when new vendor added.

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2024, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India"

1) NOTES AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

(I) General Corporate Information

M/s AANCHAL ISPAT LIMITED (the company) is a public limited company domiciled in India and incorporated under the provisions of the Companies Act, 1956. The shares of the company are listed on Bombay Stock Exchange. The company caters to domestic markets only. The company has been incorporated with the object of manufacturing of Mild Steel TMT Re-bars, Structural Re-bars, Round and other Sectional products. The Company also engages in trading of Mild Steel Billets, Cement and Clinker and TMT and Structural Re-Bars.

(II) Statement of compliance

Standalone financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in India including Indian Accounting Standard (Ind AS) prescribed under the section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 read with rule 3 of the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 (as amended from time to time) and presentation requirement of Division II of Schedule III of the Companies Act 2013, as applicable to standalone financial statement.

(III) Basis of preparation and presentation

These financial statements of the Company are prepared under the historical cost except for certain financial instruments that are measured at fair value at end of each reporting period. Historical cost is generally based on fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique. In estimating the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Company takes into account the characteristics of the asset or liability if market participants would take those characteristics into account when pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date.

In addition, for financial reporting purposes, fair value measurements are categorised in to Level 1, 2 or 3 based on the degree to which the inputs to the fair value measurements are observable and the significance of the inputs to the fair value measurement in its entirety, which are described as follows:

- Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date;
- Level 2 inputs are inputs, other than quoted prices included in Level 1, that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and
- Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability

The Financial Statements is presented in INR and all values are rounded to the nearest lakhs (upto two decimal) except when otherwise stated.

(IV) Use of Estimates

The preparation of separate financial statements in conformity with the recognition and measurement principles of Ind AS requires the management of the Company to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported balances of assets and liabilities, disclosures relating to contingent liabilities as at the date of the separate financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expense for the periods presented. Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimates are revised and future periods are affected. Future results could defer due to these estimates and the differences between the actual results and the estimates are recognised in the periods in which the results are known/materialise.

(V) Revenue Recognition(i) Sale of goods

Revenue from the sale of goods is recognised when the goods are delivered and titles have been passed, at which time all the following conditions are satisfied:

- The Company has transferred to the buyer the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods;
- The Company retains neither continuing managerial involvement to the degree usually associated with ownership nor effective control over the goods sold;
- The amount of revenue can be measured reliably;
- It is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the Company; and
- The costs incurred or to be incurred in respect of the transaction can be measured reliably.

(ii) Dividend and Interest income

Dividend income is recognised when the company's right to receive dividend is established. Interest income is recognised on a time proportion basis taking into account the amount outstanding and the effective interest rate applicable.

(VI) Foreign currencies

Transactions in currencies other than entity's functional currency (foreign currency) are recorded at the rates of exchange prevailing on the date of the transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies remaining unsettled at the end of the each reporting period are re-measured at the rates of exchange prevailing at that date.

(VII) Employee Benefits

i) Short-term benefits Short term employee benefits are recognised as an expense at the undiscounted amount in the statement of profit and loss of the year in which the related service is rendered.

ii) Defined contribution retirement benefits Payments to defined contribution retirement benefits are recognised as an expense when employees have rendered services entitling them to the contributions. Defined contribution plans are those plans where the Company pays fixed contributions to funds/schemes. Contributions are paid in return for services rendered by the employees during the year. The contributions are expensed as they are incurred in line with the treatment of wages and salaries. The liability as on the balance sheet is ascertained by an independent actuarial valuation.

iii) Defined benefit retirement benefits the cost of providing defined benefit retirement benefits are determined & recognised as per independent actuarial valuations report carried out at the end of each reporting period. The Company provides gratuity to its employees. All actuarial gains or losses are recognised in the statement of profit and loss in the period in which they occur.

(VIII) Taxationi) Current tax

Current tax is payable based on taxable profit for the year. Taxable profit differs from 'profit before tax' as reported in the statement of profit and loss because of items of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years and items that are never taxable or deductible. The current tax is calculated using tax rates in accordance with the provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961.

ii) Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognised on timing differences, being the differences between the taxable income and the accounting income that originate in one period and are capable of reversal in one or more subsequent periods. Deferred tax is measured using the tax rates and the tax laws enacted or substantially enacted as at the reporting date. Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all timing differences. Deferred tax assets in respect of unabsorbed depreciation and carry forward of losses are recognised only if there is virtual certainty that there will be sufficient future taxable income available to realise such assets. Deferred tax assets are recognised for timing differences of other items only to the extent that reasonable certainty exists that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which these can be realised. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset if such items relate to taxes on income levied by the same governing tax laws and the Company has a legally enforceable right to such set off. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date for their reliability.

iii) Minimum alternate tax

Minimum Alternate Tax (MAT) paid in accordance with the tax laws, which gives future economic benefits in the form of adjustment to future income tax liability, is recognised as an asset in the balance sheet. When there is convincing evidence that the Company will pay normal income tax during the specified period and it is probable that future economic benefit associated with it will flow to the Company.

iii) Current and deferred tax for the year

Current and deferred tax are recognised in profit or loss, except when they are relating to items that are recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case, the current and deferred tax are also recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity respectively. Where current tax or deferred tax arises from the initial accounting for a business combination, the tax effect is included in the accounting for the business combination.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when they relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority and the relevant entity intends to settle its current tax assets and liabilities on a net basis.

(IX) Property, Plant and equipment

a) Buildings and Roads, Plant and Equipment, Furniture and Fixtures and Vehicles held for use in the production or supply of goods or services, or for administrative purposes are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses. Cost includes purchase cost of materials, including import duties and non-refundable taxes, any directly attributable costs of bringing an asset to the location and condition of its intended use and borrowing costs capitalised in accordance with the Company's accounting policy.

Depreciation is recognised so as to write off the cost of assets (other than properties under construction) less their residual values over the useful lives, using the straight-line method. Depreciation of assets commences when the assets are ready for their intended use. The estimated useful lives and residual values are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes is accounted as change in estimate on a prospective basis.

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of property, plant and equipment is recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

The Company has elected to continue with the carrying value of all of its property, plant and equipment recognised as of April 1, 2016 measured as per the previous GAAP and use that carrying value as its deemed cost as of the transition date.

(X) Intangible assets

Intangible assets with finite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment (if any) losses. Amortisation is recognised over their estimated useful lives. The estimated useful life and amortisation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate being accounted for on a prospective basis. Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses. Estimated useful lives of the intangible assets are as follows:

An intangible asset is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of intangible assets is recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

The Company has elected to continue with the carrying value of all of its intangible assets recognised as of April 1, 2015 measured as per the previous GAAP and use that carrying value as its deemed cost as of the transition date.

(XI) Impairment of assets

The carrying values of assets/cash generating units at each balance sheet date are reviewed for impairment. If any indication of impairment exists, the recoverable amount of such assets is estimated and impairment is recognised, if the carrying amount of these assets exceeds their recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the greater of the net selling price and their value in use. Value in use is arrived at by discounting the future cash flows to their present value based on an appropriate discount factor. When there is indication that an impairment loss recognised for an asset in earlier accounting periods no longer exists or may have decreased such reversal of impairment loss is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

(XII) Inventories

Raw materials, work-in-progress and finished products are valued at lower of cost and net realisable value after providing for obsolescence and other losses, where considered necessary and stores and Spares are valued at cost less write off for obsolescence. Cost includes purchase price, non refundable taxes and duties and other directly attributable costs incurred in bringing the goods to the point of sale. Work-in-progress and finished goods include appropriate proportion of overheads and, where applicable, excise duty. Net realisable value is the price at which the inventories can be realised in the normal course of business after allowing for the cost of conversion from their existing state to a finished condition and for the cost of marketing, selling and distribution.

Stores and spares are valued at cost comprising of purchase price, non refundable taxes and duties and other directly attributable costs after providing for obsolescence and other losses, where considered necessary.

(XIII) Provisions, Contingent liabilities and Contingent assets(i) Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of past event, it is probable that the Company will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. Provisions are not recognised for future operating losses. Provisions are not discounted to their present value are measured at the management's best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period.

(ii) Contingent liabilities and assets

Contingent liability is a possible obligation that arises from past events and the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Company, or is a present obligation that arises from past events but is not recognised because either it is not probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation, or a reliable estimate of the amount of the obligation cannot be made. Contingent liabilities are disclosed and not recognised. In the normal course of business, contingent liabilities may arise from litigation and other claims against the company. There are certain obligations which management has concluded, based on all available facts and circumstances, are not probable of payment or are very difficult to quantify reliably, and such obligations are treated as contingent liabilities and disclosed in the notes but are not reflected as liabilities in the financial statements. Although there can be no assurance regarding the final outcome of the legal proceedings in which the company is involved, it is not expected that such contingencies will have a material effect on its financial position or profitability.

(XIV) Foreign exchange gain and losses

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at year end exchange rates are recognised in profit or loss.

(XV) Cash and cash equivalents

For the purpose of presentation in the statement of cash flows, Cash and cash equivalents includes cash on hand and short term deposits with original maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

(XVI) Trade and other payables

These amounts represent liabilities for goods and services received by the Company prior to the end of reporting period which are unpaid. Trade and other payables are presented as current liabilities unless payment is not due within 12 months after the reporting period. They are recognised initially at their fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost.

(XVII) Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs that are attributable to the acquisition or construction of qualifying assets are capitalized as part of the cost of such assets. A qualifying asset is one that necessarily takes substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use. All other borrowing costs are charged to Profit and Loss account.

(XVIII) Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share are computed by dividing the profit after tax before other comprehensive income by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the financial year. Diluted earnings per share are computed by dividing the profit after tax by the weighted average number of equity and dilutive equity equivalent shares outstanding during the year.

XIX) Events Occurring After Balance Sheet Date

Assets and liabilities are adjusted for events occurring after balance sheet date that provide additional evidence to assist the estimation of amounts relating to condition existing at the balance sheet date.

XX) Net Profit or Loss for the Period, Prior Period Items, and Changes in Accounting Policies

Significant items of extraordinary items, and prior period incomes and expenditures, are accounted in accordance with Accounting Standard 5.

XXI) Accounting for Government Grants

1. Grants and subsidies from the government are recognized when there is reasonable assurance that the company will comply with the conditions attached to them and the grant / subsidy will be received.
2. When the grant or subsidy relates to revenue, it is recognised as income on a systematic basis in the statement of profit and loss over the periods necessary to match them with the related costs, which they are intended to compensate. Where the grants relate to an asset, it is recognized as deferred income and released to income in equal amounts over the expected useful life of the released asset.
3. Where the company receives non-monetary grants, the asset is accounted for on the basis of its acquisition cost. If it is a non-monetary asset given free of cost it is recognised at nominal value.

XXII) Investments

Investments, which are readily realizable and intended to be held for not more than one year from the date on which such investments are made, are classified as current investments. All the other investments are classified as long term investments.

Current investments are carried in the financial statements at lower of cost and fair value determined on an individual investment basis. Long term investments are carried at cost. However, provision for this diminution in value is made to recognize a decline other than temporary in the value of investment.

On disposal of an investments, the difference between its carrying amount and net disposal proceeds is charged or credited to the statement of profit and loss
